Sometimes a child, disciplined into studying music, becomes a musician; and sometimes an adult learns to play an instrument and discovers he might have had a musical career. And then once in a truly blue moon, a talent is "discovered" in time to be nurtured with special care.

A Peninsula music teacher believes this has happened in the case of Taehyun (Denny) Chang, who turned 10 years old last fall and has been playing violin 10 months of his short life, with startling aptitude and remarkable results.

One of these results will be a private recital Wednesday, January 21, at which Denny will perform first movements of Schubert's Sonatina in D and Vivacchi's Concerto in A Minor. This along with minuets by Bach, Minuet by Beethoven, Andante by Gluck and a Mozart Duet for Two Violins, means Denny will be carrying a heavy burden for a 10-year-old. Or for anyone.

There are no other musicians in Denny's family, unless you count his father, Namgwi Chang, a teacher of Korean at the U. S. Army Language School, who has long been a collector of recorded classical music and is himself a student of the viola.

"My idea was to have a string quartet in the family," explains Mr. Chang, more than half seriously, since he is the father of three

Slander Case Against Mayor Comes Up Friday

Hearing on the demurrer filed by City Attorney John Morse in John J. Walsh's $50,000 slander suit against Carmel Mayor John Chitwood comes up tomorrow morning, 10:00 o'clock, in superior court in Salinas before Judge Anthony Brazil.

Walsh bases his suit on a comment allegedly made by Mayor Chitwood in an appeal before the city council on July 9 at which Walsh charges the mayor with saying he "regards it a breach of faith on the part of the seller."

Walsh had sold a lot to Irma Barnes through a real estate dealer, May Youngberg, which the Carmel Planning Commission had refused to declare a building site, and Miss Barnes' appeal from the planning commission's decision was heard July 9 before the city council and denied. Walsh had previously been denied a building permit for the same property.

Walsh has also asked $10,000 damages against the City of Carmel, charging that the denial of a building permit for the lot was motivated by malice, and he has asked superior court for a writ of mandate declaring the property a legal building site.

City Attorney Morse maintains that the mayor has the right of free comment during the time the

Scientific Journal Features Paper By Local Ornithologists On Nesting Of Eastern Birds At Point Lobos

Leading article in the current issue of The Condor, Journal of the Cooper Ornithological Society, is by Laidlaw Williams, Carmel Highlands; Ken Legg, California State Park Service, formerly stationed at Point Lobos, and Francis S. L. Williamson.

It reports "the first known occurrence of the Parula Warbler in California at Point Lobos Reserve State Park, on May 18, 1952, when one male was seen. Between May 18 and July 16, two females and at least one male were observed. This was the first record of the species west of the Rocky Mountains and the southwestern deserts."

"Two nests were found. Both were situated in festoons of the lichen Ramalina reticulata, hanging from Monterey pines.

"At least one young was fledged from one nest, and two young were fledged from the other. The young from one nest apparently did not survive beyond the second day after fledging. At the other nest, the two young were known to have survived at least eight days after fledging.

"Our observations suggested that, although two males might have been present at the beginning of our study, one disappeared and the other was believed to have become polygynous.

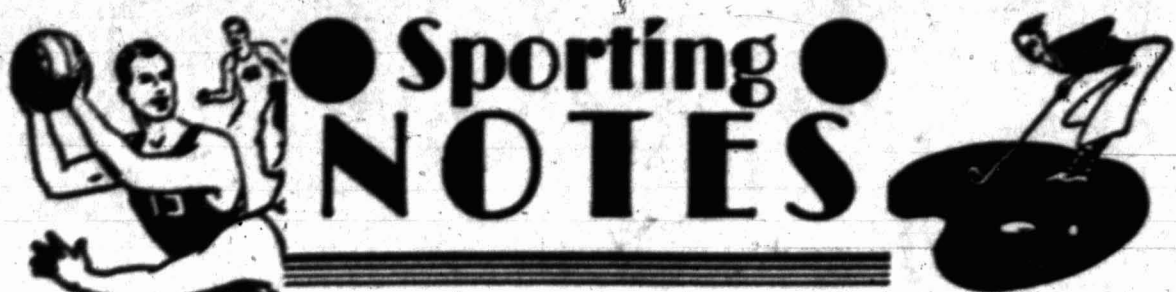

"It is believed, that other conditions being suitable, the fortuitous occurrence of individuals of both sexes in an area in which

PADRES HOST LIVE OAK FRIDAY NIGHT; TRAVEL TO GILROY SATURDAY NIGHT

Carmel High's rugged basketball squads face another arduous week end of hoop activity when they entertain the Live Oak teams Friday night at the Carmel pavilion and trek to Gilroy Saturday night for a triple-header with the strong Mustangs. Friday night's league jousts with Live Oak should be easy going for the high-flying Padres but the trip to Gilroy matches the Red and Gray with Bob Hagen's precision-plus hoopsters who are always a severe test for the Carmel lads. Friday night's action starts off with the jayvees at 5:30 o'clock, the lightweights at 7:00 and the main event varsity clash at 8:30. The same time schedule applies at Gilroy Saturday night.

Coach Dan Yurkovich's varsity squad figures to top the Acorns rather handily since Gonzales ran roughshod over Live Oak and the Padres drubbed Gonzales 49-36. Carmel will be at full strength for the Live Oak fray with Dale Dawson again healthy and ready to take his best shots for the Padre cause. Frank Wallace, Bill Hicks, Russ Wise and Dennis Peavey will round out the starting unit for the Padres.

Friday night's lightweight tussle could prove to be the best game of the night as both teams appear evenly matched and a toss-up off the previous performances. The Gonzales Babes clubbed Live Oak in good fashion and dished out the same treatment to the Carmel Lights. Coach Joe Lorincz will open with a starting unit of Mike Dunham, Mike Draper, Al Dahlstrand, Bud Cunningham and Jim Brown.

Coach Dick Lawitzke's junior-varsity team is undefeated in three games this season and figures to make it number four at the expense of the Live Oak reserves. The Padre jayvee unit hasn't been pressed in any of the three games played and appears to be the best in the B-division. Starting five for the jayvees will be Fred Bucher, Ron Faja, Toby Edson, Pat Boyle and Tom Green.

CARMEL WINS AT GONZALES —LOSES TO WATSONVILLE

With Frank Wallace, Dennis Peavey and Bill Hicks leading the way, Carmel High's varsity basketball squad won its second league game of the season at Gonzales last Friday night, clipping the Spartans 49-36. An excellent defensive job by Russ Wise on the Spartan's Cooper shut off most of the Gonzales power and made the going easy for the league-leading Padres.

Carmel's lightweight squad lost its first league game of the season to the Spartan Babes who packed too much speed for the Little Padres. An extremely cold-shooting first half betrayed the Padrecitos as they hit for only three points in the first two quarters. With Mike Draper, Al Dahlstrand and Mike Dunham finding the range, the Little Padres closed the gap in the second half but were still outsnookered, 25 to 13.

Saturday night's non-league action at Watsonville saw the Wildcats win two-out-of-three from the hard-trying Padre squads. The Wildcat varsity, fresh from a near upset over the Santa Cruz Cardinals, broke in front of the Padre heavies in the first quarter and maintained game control all the way to finish in front, 44 to 35. Frank Wallace, 14 points, and Russ Wise, eight points, were the top shooters for the Padres who had a difficult time zeroing in on the Watsonville baskets.

The high-flying Carmel junior varsity outclassed the Wildcat jayvees, 36 to 26, as Toby Edson, Fred Bucher and Pat Boyle shot with consistent accuracy. Coach Lawitzke's Padre jayvee squad was in front, 14 to 11, at halftime and continued to pour on the coal to finish with a 10-point margin.

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

There are 12 new non-fiction pieces that we want to mention today so with typical librarian logic, we have arranged them alphabetically and will give only a word or two about each. Like the motorist who drove very fast because he was almost out of gasoline and wanted to make sure he would reach his destination, we are going to just dash through these. If we don't get to all of them, we don't get to all of them!

One of the little known personages of the American Revolution was a woman named Mercy Otis Warren. She was a person of great intellect, and the political satires which she wrote were very effective in arousing public feeling and fanning the flames of revolutionary sentiment. Her biography entitled First Lady of the Revolution was written by Katherine Anthony.

When a great man dies, the world begins to gather in the fragments of memory about him in order to make from them a complete picture. This has been happening since the recent death of Eugene O'Neill. Agnes Boulton married O'Neill, in 1918, when he was an

If you are planning to take out more health insurance, borrow first The Doctor Business by Richard Carter. This book goes behind the scenes and discusses the financial side of doctoring and health insurance. Seven years of research went into the fact finding for this book. While we are discussing health, we have Dietary Prevention and Treatment of Heart Disease by John Gofman and two other doctors. Dr. Gofman is a professor at the University of California and is famous for his research in heart disease. About a third of the book is taken up by recipes for low fat diet.

George and Ira Gershwin were a team, with George doing the music and Ira the lyrics. George died in 1938. Had he lived, he would have been 60 years old in 1958. The story of the lives of these two men is told by Edward Jablonski in his book The Gershwin Years. Illustrated with many photographs and drawings, this is a fascinating chronicle.

WHAT'S DOING

Clock stopped? Every day, thousands of folks here in the Pacific West get the correct time from us. In many places, they just dial a number. This connects them with a machine which automatically gives the correct time. In other areas, local operators are always ready to give you the time. Of course, you may not need to use this service every day — but it's nice to know the correct time is as near as your phone. And this service is just one of the many useful "extras" that adds value to your telephone.

Even when youngsters are almost grown up, out-of-town relatives who haven't seen them for a while may still think of them as small children. Keep the out-of-town folks up to date on all their doings. Telephone often. Let the whole family join in the visit. The cost is low — and each call helps keep family ties strong. Pacific Telephone abundance of lichens hanging from trees provided nest sites and materials similar to those used in the normal breeding range of the species induced breeding in these birds.

The above is the summary of detailed and carefully documented observation which is contained in the article. Delay in submitting the paper is accounted for by the fact that, "as none of the birds was collected, it was deemed advisable to withhold a full account until evidence of the occurrence of the species in the state should be provided. The recent collecting of a Parula Warbler in California (Gould, 1957) now justifies the publishing of our purely observational account."

However, though no specimen was "taken" (shots or captured), "identification as to species was made certain by numerous observations at close range. Identification in the field was corroborated by J. M. Linsdale, C. G. Sibley and R. W. Storer who also saw the birds during their period of breeding at Point Lobos in 1952."

Dr. Linsdale is University of California naturalist in charge of Hastings Reservation in Carmel Valley; Storer, a U. C. zoologist.

Following an account of the nesting and feeding behavior of the birds, materials used for nest, food of the birds, etc., the writers concluded with: "one of these males must have disappeared about June 10. Between July 2 and 4, the female from nest number 2 disappeared during the fledging period of her young. It is believed that no young from nest number 1 survived after July 15, two days at the most after fledging. Two young from nest number 2, in the care of the male only, survived at least until July 13, seven days after fledging. Nothing further was known of the Parula Warblers after female number 1 was last seen on July 16. Assuming that the male and his two young were alive at least until July 16, then only two adults and two young had survived up to that date.

"In 1953, the year following the appearance of the species at Point Lobos, two of us made a number of searches, both in the study area and in other lichen-draped pine woodlands of the adjacent Monterey Peninsula region in May, June and July, but no Parula Warbler was found, nor has any been recorded subsequently."

The presence of the birds, whose habitat is east of the Rocky Mountains, so far west as Point Lobos is commented on as follows: "It has been suggested that the Parula Warblers that appeared at Point Lobos in May, 1952, had been 'wind-drifted' from their normal spring migration route. In this connection, it should be noticed that another 'displaced' parulid, an Ovenbird, was seen by Williams at Carmel Highlands, about one mile from Point Lobos, on May 31, 1952, the first record of the species in Monterey County. This Warbler (the Ovenbird) is considered a rare migrant in California by Grinnell and Miller, who list three specimens and one sight record for the state. Although the Parula Warblers and the Ovenbird may have reached the central coast of California, as a result of the same factor or factors, we have made no attempt to correlate the appearance of these birds in our area with any meteorological phenomenon, and we can offer no suggestion as to why they appeared.

Town Topics . . .

Carmel teenagers locked doors and windows this week against Four C Triple T (Carmel's Crazy Craven Carver, The Ten-O'clock Terror). Their epithet is a compilation of current sensational news titles.

The hills are green again, yellow sourgrass bells bob in the breezes, poppies are spreading leaf clusters over soaked fields, pussy willows are out, forsythia and almond brighten gardens, manzanita is in flower and Crosby tournament players are everywhere. It's January in Carmel.

Father takes all, or why students fail. At last week's high school implementation committee meeting, one member explained America's education problem. "The colleges kick back to the high schools; the high schools to the elementary schools; the elementary schools to the mothers; the mothers to the fathers . . . and it's always father's fault!"

Up in Alaska they are asking one another, "Are you visiting the smaller states this year?" says the Pine Cone advertising manager, Hank Garsva.

Cecil "Pop" Smith is thanking Topics after thanking "Vera." Two weeks ago he asked us to find "Vera" for him. He wanted to thank her for the ties she sent him for Christmas. Last week "Vera" gave Pop a clue in Town Topics. This week Pop is thanking us for finding "Vera" after thanking her. Thanks, thanks, thanks!

BERT DAVIS FINALIST IN TOASTMASTER'S CONTEST

Bert Davis gained a finals berth in the Carmel Toastmaster's speech contest held last night at Tom's Cafe. He joins Dr. Hal Funk, last week's winner, as one of the four contestants to compete in the speech finals scheduled for February 4.

Other speakers last night were Paul Perry, Tom Burke and Fremont Slattery. Commander Robert Green was the Toastmaster, Gene Newsome conducted the Table Topics, and George Purvis was the evaluator.

R. Chamberlin

Ralph Lynds Chamberlin, Carmel Highlands, retired industrial engineer, died on Monday in his home on Spindrift Road. His death was unexpected although he had been receiving medical care for a cardiac condition for a long time.

Mr. Chamberlin was born in Oakland on October 20, 1892. He received his education in Oakland schools and was an employee of the Oakland Bank of Savings before spending five years as controller for a furniture company. In 1933 he moved to Illinois and worked as an industrial engineer for a large company until becoming treasurer and general manager of another. He also served on the board of directors of Chicago Cost Accounts before ill health caused him to retire and come to live here in 1947.

Besides his wife, Mr. Chamberlin is survived by a half-brother, Louis C. Drapeau, a retired judge of the Court of Appeals, and a nephew, David Drapeau, both of Ventura.

Private services were held on Tuesday in Mission Mortuary followed by inurnment in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Chamberlin are asked to do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey.

Work Attorneys Attack Carmel City Licensing Ordinance

Municipal Judge Ray Baugh took under advisement the Work Lumber Company demurrer to the complaint signed by Carmel City Tax Collector Arthur Plaxton, which charged that the corporation violated the city ordinance by carrying on business in Carmel without taking out a license. The hearing was held yesterday in Monterey.

The complaint lists 14 counts, times and places at which the Work Company trucks made deliveries here during one calendar quarter.

Attorneys for the company attacked the form of the complaint and the ordinance itself. Each count had been listed as a violation in the complaint, they said, whereas the violation would not have occurred until after the 13th delivery, since the ordinance specifies that firms which make a minimum of one delivery per week on an average in one calendar quarter are required to take out a license.

They also attacked the wording of the ordinance, which City Attorney John Morse answered with a citation of a case in which the Los Angeles ordinance had been upheld and pointed out that Carmel's ordinance has the same wording.

Pauline Timmins

Mrs. Pauline Beckford Timmins died yesterday in her home at Viscaino and Mountain View Streets after a period of ill health requiring recent hospitalization.

Mrs. Timmins came to Carmel 10 years ago with her husband, Harry L. Timmins. Previously she lived in Los Angeles for five years and before that in Greenwich, Connecticut. She was born in Chicago, Illinois, on October 13, 1894.

Survivors, besides her husband, are three children, Mrs. Donald Teague of Carmel; William Timmins of Noroton, Connecticut, and Harry Timmins, Jr., of Hollywood.

Private funeral services were held today in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

Mohr Murder Case Evidence Sent To State Laboratory

Sheriff's investigators are still seeking the murderer of Mrs. Clara Eloise Mohr of Hatton Fields Mesa. Her stabbed and mutilated body was discovered on Saturday afternoon in her bedroom, clad only in a bathrobe and sprawled across a bed.

Captain Darol Smith, in charge of the investigation, says that physical evidence will be sent to the state crime laboratory today for analysis, and that the sheriff's office continues to interview persons who have called in with what they feel may be helpful information.

Dr. Walter Rappaport, Superintendent of Agnew State Hospital, called in as consultant, told sheriff's deputies in Salinas on Tuesday that Mrs. Mohr's death was a sex crime, committed either by a man or a woman.

Cause of death was a stab wound in the heart. Dr. Henry G. Crellin, county pathologist, estimated death occurred late Friday or early Saturday. Coroner Christopher Hill, Jr., reported no evidence of criminal assault.

A seven-inch household knife, identified as missing from a set in the victim's kitchen, was discovered under covers on Mrs. Mohr's bed. A series of blood spots was found on the driveway outside the house.

Mrs. Elyce Pegel, Mrs. Mohr's bedridden, 85-year-old mother, present in the house at the time of the crime, could offer no clues except that after dark on Friday she heard two women's voices, one her daughter's. Mrs. Pegel was removed to the county hospital.

Mrs. Mohr, 57, a practical nurse, was formerly a silent screen actress known as Claire Del Mar. She came to live here 10 years ago. Besides her mother, she is survived by her son, Captain Charles D. Swanner (USAF) of Swindon, England, and a brother, Dr. Karl Loerch of Santa Ana, both of whom are on the Peninsula; and two grandchildren.

During the past months the sheriff's office has received frequent reports of prowlers in the neighborhood of Mrs. Mohr's home, situated above the Mission. Lewd telephone calls to residents of the locality have also been reported to the sheriff's office.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Mohr will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium with Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, pastor of Carmel's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The opening of the Special Evening Concerts conducted by the intrepid Andre Kostelanetz, whose international popularity includes the capacity audiences of the non-subscription series of the New York Philharmonic, completely filled the San Francisco Opera House last Saturday.

Added interest was John Browning, young pianist winner of the National Federation of Music Clubs' contest, who since has made a quick international success. Many well-known musical people of Carmel who are his friends were in evidence to greet his first appearance in San Francisco in the Rachmaninoff Concerto. From the impressive opening chords of this work through the three movements, Browning delivered a brilliant rendering in tone and technique and proved himself musically quite outstanding among the young interpretive artists of today. Formerly, I heard Rachmaninoff himself play the concerto in New York.

The ovation that greeted Browning was rewarded with a Chopin Nocturne played with a sympathy rarely given Chopin today, in deeply refined singing qualities that can come from heart and feeling to touch a response in listeners that no performance of mere brilliancy can do. The "Poet of the Piano" was being met by a poet of similar caliber. It was exquisite.

Besides the famous Rachmaninoff Vocalise and second movement of his No. 2 symphony, Kostelanetz's initiative for American composers included Schuman's New England Triptych after Billings, of the American Revolutionary period, a typically American expression that finally uses Billings' hymn that became a marching song of the Continental Army. Also some numbers from the Flower Drum Song, Rodgers and Hammerstein's newest production in New York. In construction it reminded one of some Gilbert and Sullivan forms and even a Sousa march with effective and colorful instrumentation in its oriental character so suitable for San Francisco.

We hope to hear more of these freer expressions presented by Kostelanetz and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra through Manager Howard Skinner. Their character allows for leeway in extras, to satisfy the audience, three of which were added Saturday of a semi-popular nature.

Gregory Millar, music director and conductor of the Monterey County Symphony, has been engaged to guest conduct the Santa Barbara Symphony in an all-Brahms concert January 20. His appearance in Santa Barbara will be one of several recent guest appearances by the young San Francisco conductor, the most recent of which was with the Portland Symphony during which he presented a program of contemporary music. Previous to this he had conducted the Canadian Broadcast Symphony in British Columbia.

Mr. Millar's program for his Santa Barbara appearance includes the Tragic Overture, the Symphony No. 3 in F Minor and the Piano Concerto No. 2 with John Gillespie as soloist. The next Monterey County Symphony concerts will be a group of children's programs in February.

Mr. Millar's next appearance in San Francisco will be in a special concert of the Little Symphony of San Francisco to be given Sunday, January 18, in the auditorium of the Longshoremen's Memorial Building.

Cub Pack Three Has Newsman Session

Young Newsman was the theme of Cub Scout Pack Three meeting on January 8 at River School Cafeteria. Members of Den Three, Mrs. Donald Hays, Den mother, each read articles on trips and tours the group has taken. Den Four, Mrs. Tor Spindler, Den mother, gave all cubs present, parents and guests, a two-page mimeographed newspaper they had prepared. Den Five, under Den mother, Mrs. Robert Wilkey, came to the meeting as newspaper comic strip characters and those present were asked to guess whom they represented.

During the evening the following awards were presented: Bobcat, Donald Hays, Larry Little, John C. Kimbark and "J. W." Joseph White. One-year pin: Jeffery

Richard Glendon To Give Lecture On Scientific Prayer

The healing and saving power of scientific prayer will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given here Friday, January 23, by Richard L. Glendon of Los Angeles.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by the members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Carmel. Mr. Glendon will speak in the church edifice, Monte Verde Street near Sixth Avenue at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. His subject will be, Christian Science: The Healing Comforter.

Now on nationwide tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Glendon was a moderator recently on several television programs in the series, How Christian Science Heals.

A native of Denver, Colorado, he became interested in Christian Science as a boy. He withdrew from business in 1934 to devote his full take his initial swing from Pebble Beach's first tee at 8:50.

This year's four day, 72-hole National Pro-Am will have 50 teams at each of the three courses for the first three days with the top 60 teams and the leading individual pros tackling Pebble Beach in Sunday's finals.

The Crosby "clambake" has $50,000 prize money up for grabs with host Bing supplying $15,000 and $35,000 coming from Sunday's nationwide television show which unfolds at Pebble Beach from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock. All proceeds from the four-day golf festival go to charity with youth movements high on the charity committee's priority list.

Besides the world's greatest professional golfers, the Crosby attracts colorful personalities from all walks of life. From the stage, screen and television taking their swings for charity will be Bob Hope, Ray Bolger, Randolph Scott, Dennis O'Keefe, Fred Waring, Bob Crosby, Dean Martin, Guy Madison, Gordon MacRae, Desi Arnaz and a host of others.

Professional baseball players easily recognized by their flat swings are Lefty O'Doul, a two-time winner in the pro-am division; Bill Rigney, Bob Lemon, Jackie Jensen, Allie Reynolds, Paul Richards and Carl Hubbell.

Football provides one of the most colorful pro-am teams in the John Brodie-Frank Albert combine which presents a quarterback-coach duo going together in the Crosby for the first time. Other ex-gridders challenging for a bit

Copenhagen Inn Has Christian's Former Baker

Copenhagen Inn, a new Danish restaurant at Fourth Avenue and San Carlos Street, is owned and managed by Kai and Anna Mortensen. They have come here from Solvang, a Danish community in the Santa Ynez Valley, where they successfully operated a Danish food restaurant similar to their new venture in Carmel.

Their slogan, Food That's Fit For A King, is substantiated by the fact that their baker, Arvid Petersen, has come here directly from Denmark where he was a master baker for the Royal Danish Court and served King Christian of Denmark for three years.

His wife, who has an equally renowned reputation for baking, is flying here from Copenhagen this week with the Petersens' two children and will contribute her talents to the cuisine at Copenhagen Inn.

of the gold are Bones Hamilton, Bob Reynolds, Julie Bescos, Pete Elliott, Marshall Duffield, Ernie Nevers, and Frank Brunk. Jimmy McLarnin, pound-for-pound one of the greatest fighting machines of all time, is a worthy representative of the boxing game and is a real veteran of the Crosby tournament.

The Monterey Peninsula's top amateur is George Galios, former professional baseball player now working for the Telephone company, who teamed with Ralph Blomquist to win the 1956 Pro-Am. Galios is paired with Ed Neist this year and tees off at Cypress Point at 8:18 this morning.

Carmel Youth Center's hard-working concession crews will be spotted at handy places on the courses to provide sandwiches, hot dogs, candy and cold drinks to satisfy the inner man. The Center teen-agers put in long selling hours to earn their own operating budget at the popular play spot.

BY E. CASHION MAC LENNAN

Light-hearted memoirs of a light-hearted time. A Carmel artist recalls her art school days in St. Louis, New York, Chicago and Paris.

One rainy evening when we were browsing around Montmartre we sought shelter in the cafe Au Mere Catherine on the Place du Tertre, which we had occasionally visited. A musician was playing selections from the operas on a trench organ; the customers, mostly French neighbors were leisurely sipping their wine while listening to the music or playing cards. Having my sketching materials, as usual, I took the opportunity of sketching a few of the interesting types. When they discovered what I was doing, some of them became very shy. Later, we dropped into Au Singe Qui Lits, a bookstand adjacent to the cafe, as we had done several times before and were shown by the proprietor who was a friend of Utrillo, some of that artist's sketches and small paintings of Sacre Coeur and Montmartre.

One evening we dined with Romaine and Hewes at a famous Chinese restaurant. From there, as it was St. Catherine's Night and a time for celebration, we went to the Djiquite, a Russian restaurant on Boul. Montparnasse, for some of its marvelous flaming desserts and to enjoy the music of its small Russian orchestra. We danced the Russian waltz, round and round until we were breathless. Then Romaine played several Russian airs on the piano and some negro spirituals—Deep River, etc.—to the delight of the Russians.

Again, we were not ready to leave the Left Bank and return to our pensions, so we went to the Dome for a final pousse-cafe. Through Romaine we met there George Antheil (known as the Bad Boy of Music) and his beautiful wife, noted Hungarian novelist, and we arranged to "sup" together. Antheil's friend, the composer Stravinsky, and Polienski a poet on scholarship from the Serbian government, joined us. The poet's great "oeuvre" was The 77 Sui-cides. He was anxious to have it filmed in Hollywood. As none of us spoke French fluently, the conversation was carried on in a mixture of French, English and German. At times we had to translate from one language to another, with many amusing blunders in consequence. Antheil, who gave a concert at the Sunset School several years ago, and was then living in Hollywood composing music for the movies, had just performed his Ballet Mechanique at the Champs Elysees Theatre. The audience did not understand it and hooted and ridiculed it. He told us he was going to give it again at an exhibition of The Art of Today, and invited us all to be present.

The Art of Today was an exhibition of abstract art and dissonant garde music. Most of the young women in the audience had short hair and long cigarette holders, and were smoking constantly. The young men wore beards and longish hair. All were talking vociferously, arguing the pros and cons of abstract art. Antheil performed his composition "Ballet Mechanique" on sixteen synchronized mechanical pianos, expressing the uproar of a modern factory adjusted to make it more harmonious.

Later, after leaving Paris and before returning to America, we traveled through France, Switzerland and Spain (including the Island of Majorca), and I sketched and painted at every opportunity. I was chagrined to learn that on debarking at New York I would have to pay a considerable duty on my own sketches unless I valued the entire batch at less than $100.

My art student life ended with this year in Europe. Soon, though a serious artist is always a student, my very active professional painting life began in the new home Mr. Mac Lennan and I designed and built in Montecito, just out of Santa Barbara. Our studio was 35 x 16, with vaulted ceiling, huge north light, a fireplace and plenty of room in which to paint large canvasses and to accommodate groups of friends and visitors—artists, writers, musicians and world travelers. There, many civic and artistic activities were planned and worked out—Old Spanish Days Fiesta, artist fairs, an artist ball, even two plays: one "1818" by Mr. Mac Lennan which was produced at the Lobero Theater, Santa Barbara, and "Headacres," a melodrama, which a group of us had great fun writing and which was performed at Pasadena.

Before the Santa Barbara Museum of Art was established we artists felt the need of Visiting Days, perhaps one a week in turn, at our studios for out-of-town visitors and our local appreciators. When a friend of mine, a member of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles, asked if a group of its members could come up for a day's "Art Jaunt," I said, "Yes, do!—How many will there be?" My friend thought about 28 or 30. When 80 arrived, one hot day, the supply of punch was soon exhausted and we were six miles from Santa Barbara and couldn't quickly replenish supplies. Fortunately our several lemon trees were bearing and Mr. Mac Lennan with an artist friend assisting, performed the miracle of providing quantities of lemonade for the thirsty crowd and saved the day.

After doing production-illustration at Lockheed during the war, in the early 40's, and having a fine restful year in the Missouri Ozarks, we moved to Carmel—which we had visited earlier and where we had decided to live eventually.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The vital importance of having a strong, spiritual foundation will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (32:34): "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without inequity, just and right is he."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following: (Psalms 18:30,31): "As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?"

ORDINANCE NO. 255 N.S.

ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING PURCHASING SYSTEM

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Part II of the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea be amended by the addition of a new section to be known as Division 8, which shall read as follows:

"DIVISION 8

PURCHASING SYSTEM AND PROCEDURES

Section 111. ADOPTION OF PURCHASING SYSTEM. In order to establish efficient procedures for the purchase of supplies and equipment, to secure for the city supplies and equipment at the lowest possible cost commensurate with the quantity and quality needed, to exercise positive financial control over purchases, to clearly define authority for the purchasing function and to assure the quality of purchases, a purchasing system is hereby adopted.

Section 111.01. COORDINATION OF PURCHASING. The City Clerk shall coordinate purchasing activities in accordance with purchasing procedures prescribed by this ordinance and such other rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the City Council, and shall prepare and recommend to the City Council supplements, revisions and amendments to purchasing rules.

Section 111.02. PERSONS AUTHORIZED TO PURCHASE AND TO CONTRACT FOR SERVICES FOR THE CITY. Heads of Departments shall act to procure for the city property and services for their respective departments, and, unless the Council shall otherwise order, the City Clerk shall act where no specific department is responsible or the city generally requires property or services. Such procurement shall, in all instances, be in accordance with procedures set forth in this ordinance and in the rules and regulations prescribed by the City Council.

Section 112. PURCHASING PROCEDURES. The purchase of property and services shall be governed by the following procedures: (a) Procurement shall be only by a purchase order, issued at the time the order is placed, and no invoice or other demand for payment upon the city shall be honored without a purchase order reconciled to such invoice or demand.

(b) Except in cases of emergency, Heads of Departments shall not issue any purchase order for property or services, unless there exists an unencumbered appropriation in the fund account against which said purchase is to be charged.

(c) Contracts, other than purchase orders, shall be entered into only by the City Council or by such persons as it may designate; excepting standard contracts for the annual servicing of equipment by the vendor or manufacturer of such equipment or his duly designated service agency, which contracts may be signed by the Head of the Department having nominal custody of such equipment.

(d) Persons authorized to procure property and services for the city shall make such inspections, investigations and inquiries and shall establish such specifications as will insure that the city is obtaining both the quantity and quality necessary for the intended use at the least possible expense.

Section 112.01. INVENTORY OF CITY PROPERTY. An inventory of all lands, structures and capital equipment, but not to include expendable operating material and supplies, or equipment leased or rented from other parties or in which the city has no clear or intended title, shall be maintained by the City Clerk from information supplied to him in appropriate form and content by the Heads of Departments. A physical inventory shall be taken in the first thirty days of each fiscal year and shall be maintained current thereafter by the processing of purchase orders, invoices, bills of sale and such other forms and evidence of possession as shall be necessary to the purposes of this section.

Section 112.02. ESTIMATE OF REQUIREMENTS. Annually, prior to the preparation of the budget for the succeeding fiscal year, Heads of Departments shall file with the City Clerk such detailed estimates of their requirements in property and services as shall permit the preparation of an accurate and comprehensive budget.

Section 113. CLASSIFICATION OF PROPERTY AND SERVICES. Materials and supplies required for the current operating needs of the city shall be classified as Expendable Property and shall be budgeted and accounted for as current operating expenses. Services shall be treated for all purposes as expendable property. Equipment, lands, structures and improvements shall be classified as fixed assets, and shall be budgeted and accounted for as capital expenses.

Section 113.01. PROCUREMENT OF EXPENDABLE PROPERTY. Heads of Departments may procure expendable property in accordance with the current and reasonably anticipated needs of their respective departments and as otherwise provided for by this ordinance and the rules and regulations prescribed by the City Council.

Section 113.02. PROCUREMENT OF FIXED ASSETS. Fixed assets may be procured by the appropriate authority only after such assets have been provided for by a Capital Outlay Project and the City Council has expressly authorized the execution of said project; except that the City Clerk may, upon determining the adequacy of funds in the Capital Outlay Fund, authorize the execution of any Capital Outlay Project for which the acceptable quotation or estimate does not exceed the sum of Five Hundred ($500) Dollars.

Section 113.03. TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AND SERVICES. Supplies, materials, services and equipment, including fixed assets, which are surplus, obsolete or otherwise unusable in one department may be transferred to another department upon certification to the City Clerk of the act in such manner and form as will permit the transfer to be properly recorded in the inventory of City property.

Section 113.04. SALE, EXCHANGE OR TRADE OF EXPENDABLE PROPERTY. Expendable property which is certified in writing by the responsible Head of Department to be surplus, obsolete or otherwise unusable may be exchanged or traded in on other expendable property by authorization of the Department Head. Expendable property may be sold outright only upon authorization of the City Council and in accordance with the provisions of Section 113.06 herein.

Section 113.05. DISPOSAL OF FIXED ASSETS. Fixed assets may be exchanged, traded, sold or otherwise disposed of only by authority of the City Council. Sale must be in accordance with Section 113.06 of this ordinance. Approval for an exchange or trade shall be implied if such exchange or trade be an anticipated part of the consideration in an approved Capital Outlay Project.

Section 113.06. BIDS. At such time as the Council considers the sale of fixed or expendable property, it may, unless prohibited by State law,

(a) waive all bids and approve the sale of such property to any individual, firm or corporation;

(b) solicit, process and dispose of bids as provided by the Government Code of the State of California;

(c) solicit bids and establish its own procedures where the requirement of state law permits."

Broadbuss Family Now In Texas

Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Broadbuss have received word that their son, Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Broadbuss, his wife and five children have arrived at Fort Riley, Kansas. They left here on December 28, Lieutenant Colonel Broadbuss driving a microbus and Mrs. Broadbuss a car. One wirehaired dachshund travelled in each car with the children, Robert, Jr., Julie, Jimmie and the twins, Bobbie and Billie, variously distributed between the two vehicles. They encountered blizzards on the way and intense cold as they approached Fort Riley.

Mrs. Broadbuss and the children have lived here for two years while Lieutenant Colonel Broadbuss had various Army assignments. Last was a six-month medical officer advanced course at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He finished this before coming home to Carmel for Christmas.

On Christmas Day the Broadbuss family was gathered together for the first time in 20 years, Mrs. C. A. Broadbuss, Lieutenant Colonel Broadbuss' mother reports. Her other son, Bernard Broadbuss of Stockton came here to share the holiday at her home with Lieutenant Colonel Broadbuss and his family.

Before bringing his family to live in Carmel, Lieutenant Colonel Broadbuss was stationed in Germany. He is now head of the 1st Infantry medical department at Fort Riley.

At Lions District Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Balax left this week for Las Vegas to attend the California-Nevada District Lions Club convention which will be held on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Sunday morning they will be joined by Carmel Lions Club President Clifford Cook, Vice President George Dear and Secretary William Wakefield. The four Carmel Lions will enter the golf tournament at the convention as a team. Dr. William Coughlin of Carmel, international counselor, also plans to attend the convention. Mrs. Dear and Mrs. Wakefield are accompanying their husbands to Las Vegas.

Bolins Back From Hong Kong

Dr. and Mrs. Rolf L. Bolin are back after 15 months away. Most of this time was spent in Hong Kong where Dr. Bolin, on a Fulbright fellowship, was classifying the fish of the waters surrounding the Crown Colony. "And I sent back barrels and barrels of fishes in order to complete the project," says Dr. Bolin, who resumed his duties as deputy director of the Hopkins Marine Station Monday.

Dr. Bolin worked at the University of Hong Kong classifying the fishes, then went to Australia, and at the Australian Museum in Sydney pursued his special research interest, deep sea fishes. During November and December of 1957 he attended meetings of the Pacific Science Congress in Bangkok, "a most interesting place," he reports.

When he arrived home in Carmel on Saturday he had completely circled the world during his absence. Leaving here 15 months ago, Dr. Bolin went to London, then continued in an easterly direction through the Suez Canal to Hong Kong. Mrs. Bolin proceeded in a westerly direction from Carmel to meet him there. She also visited Japan.

"Although services are inexpensive in Hong Kong, housing is not," Dr. Bolin observed. "It is a wonderful place to visit but I'd rather live in Australia, after Carmel."

Revolution Delays Alfredo

Alfredo Dopico arrived in Carmel on Saturday, a week late for junior year classes at Carmel High School. He was delayed by the revolution in Cuba led by Fidel Castro. On Monday classmates heard him tell about his experiences in Havana during the rebellion. Alfredo left before Christmas to visit his mother, Mrs. Magda Vasquez-Bello, little expecting that he would return with on-the-spot reports of the uprising in his homeland. Fascinated schoolmates listened to his tales, an unexpected related-to-living experience in Spanish classes taught by Donald Craig.

Mrs. Vasquez-Bello and Alfredo visited Carmel two summers ago. Alfredo so enjoyed his stay he wanted to attend school here. Since then he has been living with his mother's friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kunstle, during school terms.

Returns From Switzerland

Jean Pierre Kunstle was due to arrive home this week from a European visit. He left before Christmas to visit his parents in Switzerland and attend to business on the continent. Mrs. Kunstle remained in Carmel while her husband was abroad.

Mike On Superintendent's List

A release from Annapolis, Maryland, announces that Midshipman Michael M. Raggett, class of 1962, has been appointed to the Superintendent's List at the United States Naval Academy.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett of Carmel, and was salutatorian of the class of 1958 at Carmel High School. In order for a midshipman to achieve the honor of being on the Superintendent's List he must have a minimum academic average of 82.5 per cent in his studies, have a mark no lower than 80 per cent in aptitude, and possess a conduct standing satisfactory to the Commandant of Midshipmen. Those who achieve this distinction are granted special privileges for the succeeding term.

Morrills Arrive From East

Mr. and Mrs. George Morrill of Dover, New Hampshire, arrived here on Monday for a six-months' visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garsva, and Michael, Susan and Timmie, their grandchildren. This is the first time the Morrills have come to the Peninsula. Mr. Morrill is a retired employee of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

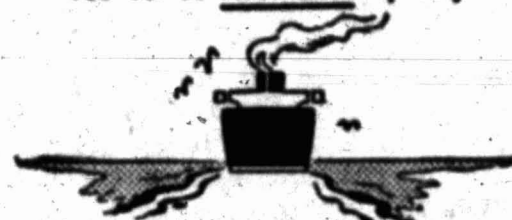

Feingarten Preview Tonight

Attend Browning S. F. Concert

Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver spent last week end in San Francisco and Berkeley. On Saturday evening she heard John Browning play the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto at the Opera House with the San Francisco Symphony directed by Andre Kostelanetz. At intermission in the lobby she found Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Klene, Canon and Mrs. Charles A. Dowdell, Mrs. Nancy Bowman and Mrs. Charles A. Trumbly who had all gone to the city to hear John, whom they had known when he was stationed at Fort Ord.

Before returning to Carmel, Miss Lindsay-Oliver met some friends from Canada and visited Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Carson in Berkeley.

Find "Just The House"

The Misses Margaret and Catherine McGrath, who came from San Francisco to live in Carmel in June, have been looking for "just the house they wanted" ever since. They have found it and before the end of this month will move into a home on Lincoln Street.

Monterey College Offers Free Film, Lecture Series

Scheduled to appear this spring on the Evening Lecture Series are Mortimer J. Adler who will speak on Education in an Industrial Society at the Armory February 27. Semanticist S. I. Hayakawa on March 20 will trace the History and Development of The Blues, with musical accompaniment to prove his point.

On April 8, novelist James T. Farrell will talk on The Writer and Society.

The series will conclude Tuesday, May 5, with an evening with Stephen Spender, renowned English poet, who will read from his own work.

The lecture series are offered as a community service without charge by the Evening Division of Monterey Peninsula College.

The film series offered by the Monterey College evening division this spring:

February 13, David Wark Griffith's Birth of a Nation filmed in 1915 will be shown.

March 6, Douglas Fairbanks and co-star Wallace Beery will be seen once again in their 1922 film, Robin Hood.

The celebrated German film, Mädchen in Uniform made in 1932, will be on the MPC screen Friday, April 3.

Pierre Chenal's film, Crime and Punishment made in France in 1935, will be shown here Friday, May 1.

The two-and-one-half-hour, uncut version of Marcel Carne's French version of Children of Paradise (1943-45) is scheduled for Friday, May 22.

The MPC film series will close Friday, June 5, with the Eisenstein film, Ivan the Terrible, filmed in the USSR in 1946.

All showings will begin at 8:30 o'clock at Student Union. The films are offered as a community service without charge. However, the public is advised that seating is limited to 250 persons and the showings are usually well-attended. Student Union opens at 8:00 o'clock in the evening and coffee is "on the house." The latter, a friendly gesture, is paid for by the Evening Division Student Body of Monterey Peninsula College.

Mission Altar Society Meets

Carl Bensberg showed color slides of Austria at the January meeting of the Carmel Mission Altar Society held on Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. George Wahl. Mrs. John Frey was co-hostess.

Mrs. Walter Roland and Miss Genevieve Gehres presided over the tea table during the social hour following the program. Winter flowers decorated the drawing room of Mrs. Wahl's home on this occasion and there was a large number of members in attendance.

Emery Heads Artists For Second Year And Names Officers

Leslie Emery was re-elected president of the Carmel Art Association at Monday evening's annual meeting of the group held in the main gallery. After elections were over members adjourned to the Beardsley Room to celebrate a successful year with a champagne supper arranged by members Mrs. Jessie MacGregor and Brigadier General Frank Dorn.

Serving as Art Association officers under the leadership of Leslie Emery this year will be Mrs. Jessie MacGregor as first vice president and treasurer; Joe Ataide, second vice president; Mabel Landaker, secretary.

Elected to the board of directors on Monday night were Sophie Harpe, Eunice Mac Lennan, Jess Corsaut, Rip Matteson, Richard Lofton, Gene Elmore and Maxine Albright. They will serve during 1959 with holdover director, Mrs. MacGregor, Donald League, Mabel Landaker, Eugene Baker, Jane Buffington, Beth Garcia and Emery.

"No Rainbows" Tues. When Council Meets To Buy Police Cars

Carmel city council meets in adjourned session on Tuesday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock for first reading on an emergency ordinance to extend the interim zoning ordinance, and to pass a resolution for purchase of two new cars for the police department.

Police Commissioner Allen Knight has already ordered two Chevrolets, color a little lighter green than the green car now in police use. They will arrive within the next three weeks. Repeated mechanical failures in Carmel's present two police cars necessitate purchase of the Chevrolets, he says, and, "We're being conservative this year, having both cars the same quiet color. No rainbows!"

This is flying in the face of tradition. Carmelites have requested, and generally got, pastel colored police cars. Robin egg blue and baby-ribbon pink have long been favorites, the latter so much so that Clyde Klaumann requested that pink be made the standard color for all patrol cars, several years ago. This was voted down in favor of variety in color, which should always be bright and dainty.

Mitchells Back In Highlands

Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Mitchell are again occupying their home in Carmel Highlands. "This time for good," hopes Mrs. Mitchell. They have returned from Millbrae where they lived while Mr. Mitchell was teaching professional at the Olympic Golf Club in Lakeside near San Francisco.

Mrs. Mitchell reports that her older son, Pete, who is in the Navy, is on his way to Guam after a Christmas holiday at home. Her younger son, Tim, is completing this semester of his high school junior year in their previous location but will join them at the end of the month and continue his studies at Carmel High.

Home From Mexico

Art Association President Leslie Emery and Mrs. Emery returned to Carmel on Friday after a trip to Mexico. Les is enthusiastic about Alamos, a restored Colonial town near the southern Sonora border, which they visited. "Nothing like it," he says.

R.L.S. School Gets New Books; Boys Take Up Bowling

Since the first of the year more than 700 important books have been placed in the new library of the Robert Louis Stevenson School. The acquisition is of wide range in subject matter and student interest. While quite a number of the books are single volumes, the majority belong to sets, many of which are no longer in print.

Mrs. Lilly C. Trowbridge, librarian, reports that the RLS library is now receiving 25 daily and monthly publications, including the New York Times, Christian Science Monitor Wall Street Journal, Saturday Evening Post, Time, Life, Fortune, U. S. News and World Report, Reader's Digest, National Geographic Magazine, Esquire, Wisdom, Territorial Enterprise—Mark Twain's Newspaper, Motorland and Yachting.

Bowling is the newest sport at the Stevenson school. Faculty members and seniors who have scores around 140 or more may participate. The first team to date is now playing in league competition each Wednesday night at the El Rancho alleys in Pacific Grove. The team: Headmaster Robert U. Ricklefs and seniors Phil Bartlett, Wes Cook, Tom Craven, Bud Ewer, Ken McGilvray, Bob Morris and Bob Ricklefs.

Raskobs Praise Carmel Artists

"Carmel artists and craftsmen are doing fine and sincere work," was the opinion expressed by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raskob of San Angel Inn, Mexico City, when they visited Carmel exhibition galleries on Monday.

The Raskobs stopped here on their way to Sacramento where Mr. Raskob is having a one-man show of his paintings in the E. B. Crocker Museum Gallery for a month beginning on January 25. One of his pictures is in the permanent collection of the National Museum of Mexico and he has exhibited widely both in the United States and Europe. Among his artist friends he includes Picasso, Orozco, Roualt and Lohte.

Mrs. Raskob (Esther Tullman) is a sculptress and ceramist. She also collects and translates folk songs, a volume of which she plans to prepare for publication within the coming year.

The Raskobs moved to Mexico five years ago from New York. They live in San Angel Inn, a suburb of Mexico City occupied mostly by artists. "It's very like Carmel," said Mrs. Raskob, "but with no shops."

Women's Club Talk On Aku-Aku

Aku-Aku, an account of the exploration of Easter Island by Thor Heyerdahl, will be the subject of the program to be given by Miss Mabel Stark at the book section of the Carmel Woman's Club Monday. She will have maps and pictures to highlight her talk, which will be on display so that the members may examine them after the lecture. In presenting the program, Miss Stark will explore the historical and scientific facets of this discovery, which includes huge stone man-made figures—the evidences of a long lost civilization. Mr. Heyerdahl will be remembered as the author of "Kon-Tiki," published some five or six years ago.

Miss Stark is Carmel Woman's Club librarian. She received her master's degree in science at the University of Chicago, majoring in geography, and has taught this subject in various state teachers' colleges in the Middle West and in New England. In San Francisco she was on the teaching staff of the High School of Commerce. Since Carmel became her home in 1950, she has been active in the University Women's Club and the Carmel Woman's Club.

Mrs. Samuel B. Moore, hospitality chairman, is in charge of the tea hour which follows the talk. She will be assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Joseph M. Ewing, Miss Elizabeth Reid, Mrs. Florence Elliott, Mrs. J. C. Buffington, Miss Mae Brazeltine, Mrs. Georgia Bamford, Mrs. J. M. Bedford, Mrs. C. U. Fonteneau, Mrs. J. L. Fletcher, Mrs. James Dempsey and Mrs. Keith Evans.

WILD LILIES

*I wonder why the lilies of the field
The wild ones, straggling in a weedy place,
And just by fragments of the sun revealed
Have such heart-shaking loveliness and grace.
Why, given garden-comfort and a wall
To keep them from marauders and the wind,
Though growing still more perfect, fair and tall,
Their gain is loss, their dalliance disciplined.*

*The beauty of a bent and struggling tree
That out of sheer adversity can form
Bare lines of freedom though it is not free
Transmutes the contradiction of the storm.
All things that build their glory out of pain
Touch the deep heart and make its motion plain.*

HILL GRASS

*I watch the blowing barley and the leaves—
The happy leaves that ripple on the hill.
Would that the shadowed hours of those who grieve
Might hold this gentle yielding of the will!
Bend and return, nor move from that still place
Where all is silence, wisdom without word.
And in this shining vestibule of grace
Await the message outwardly unheard.*

*The curving grasses, risen shoulder-high
Beyond the eager wild-flowers of the field
Move with the quiet dignity of peace.
Beneath the mighty motion of the sky
With gentle confidence from hour to hour
Their constant yielding in their true release.*

SOLILOQUY

*No striving ends in failure, for unseen
The stronger threads are woven in the cloth
That makes the cloak of life. No mold nor moth
Can rend the fibres or destroy their sheen.
Firm is that garment undefiled by time
Securely woven of both joy and pain!
The fabric shines transcendent and sublime
Bright as a rainbow over sun and rain.*

*Earthly success becomes the spirit's loss.
Too soon the self acquires the scarf of pride
And wraps itself within the gaudy veils.
But when humility rejects the dross
And weapons of the will are cast aside
Failure succeeds where every triumph fails.*

Taehyun Chang Shows Unusual Musical Talent

(Continued from Page One) other youngsters. That's how he happened to get his elder son started as a pupil of Louis Fragos, who has taught violin at Robert Louis Stevenson School and privately since coming to the Peninsula in 1952.

A fifth-grader at the Bayview School, Denny likes drawing and arithmetic and leads an obviously happy, schoolboy's life with his parents, whose home is in Monterey, and his brothers and sister: Sohyun (Suzy), 5; Chukyun (Jimmy), 4, and Uhyun (Ulysses), 1½. (That last nickname seems to have been bestowed by Denny on his baby brother.

He takes twice-weekly lessons at his teacher's home in Pacific Grove and practices "at least an hour" daily. Born in Seoul, Denny and his parents came to this country in 1951.

The fact that Denny is a budding artist may come as a surprise to his friends at school. "It was a big surprise to us, too," his dad says.

Mr. Fragos, who himself had an early-starting career on the concert stage—his debut in Carnegie Recital Hall was made at age 11—is especially excited over Denny's progress, although he tempers his enthusiasm in Denny's presence with just the right amount of reticence and admonishment.

More than once he used the word prodigy in connection with Denny Chang. He said his pupil is a highly-gifted youngster, and he predicted, "We'll all be hearing more of Denny."

For Denny's future his teacher and his father plan "a lot of hard work," to which Denny agrees. He likes the newly-discovered world of music, and has adjusted easily to the discipline of long practice.

If the teacher's faith in his young student needs any confirmation, there is that, too. Last week Denny, a healthy, fast-growing lad, graduated from his small-size practice violin to a full-sized one.

The new instrument is a gift from his mentor; it's the violin with which Louis Fragos practiced his way through Juilliard, on which he did his own learning. And it is, of course, the highest tribute a teacher can pay the student that "happens" once in a lifetime.

Accompanist for Denny's Wednesday recital will be Mrs. Howard Marshall. Playing the Mozart Duet with him will be his teacher.

The program, presented for a small group of Denny's well-wishers, is the harbinger, we understand, of a public presentation at a later date.

Parking Lots To Be Primarily Parks, Committees Agree

At a closed committee meeting Wednesday afternoon the chairman's committee of the Carmel Planning Commission and the city officials' committee (city clerk, attorney and building inspector) discussed differences over the new zoning plan for the Carmel commercial area which has been worked out by the three city officials on request of Mayor John Chitwood.

Two points of agreement were reached. The first: off-street parking areas, both public and private, should be considered as parks in which parking is allowed, and planned as part of an urban green belt. The standards for tree and shrub planting area in relation to parking area to be set up even though locations are not as yet designated.

Second point of agreement: a matter of semantics but covering a fundamental concept, to change the name of outermost zone of the concentric circle plan of the business area from transition zone to C-R or some other letter designation. The entire plan is transitional from concentrated commercial activity in the central core, becoming progressively less through the several zones outward to the perimeter zone between residence and commercial, the city officially explained.

This perimeter zone is designated as a multiple dwelling zone at present—hotels, apartments, possibly restaurants and specialty stores directly connected with the motel business. How much commercial activity other than multiple dwelling is a matter of disagreement that the two committees will try to work out at another meeting, as not yet set.

Frances Ballard

Carmel friends of Mrs. Frances Ballard learned this week of her recent death of a heart condition in her home in Berkeley. She was a Carmel resident before moving to the East Bay area eight years ago.

During the time she lived here, Mrs. Ballard was active in organization of the Carmel Republican Women's Club and served as first

Slander Case Comes Up Friday Against Carmel Mayor

(Continued from Page One) council is in session when his remarks are privileged. The city is liable only as provided in the state code and Walsh's action does not come under any of the provisions of the state code. Since Walsh is no longer the owner of the lot, he is not the person to ask superior court to declare the property a building site, Morse states in his demurrer.

Walsh brought his suit against the mayor and the city in a cross complaint and answer to a suit Miss Barnes has brought against him charging "fraud and deceit" in the sale of the lot, and asking $5,000 damages. In his answer and cross complaint he states that responsibility for informing Miss Barnes that the lot is not a building site rested with Miss Youngberg, who was acting for "herself and an undisclosed principal" in the sale. He asks $50,000 damages against Miss Youngberg for a statement she allegedly made at the July 9 hearing, when she denied knowing that Walsh had previously been denied a building permit for the lot and asked, "Why should you condemn this lot rather than the man who formerly owned it?"

Miss Youngberg is not a party in the suit against Walsh in which Miss Barnes asks $5,000 damages.

president of the group. She enjoyed walking on the beach, her Carmel friends remember.

Before coming to Carmel, Mrs. Ballard, a lawyer and graduate of Bryn Mawr, practiced her profession in Boston and Philadelphia. She organized the Legal Aid Society in the latter city.

She is survived by two sons, one of whom is Seaver Ballard of Orinda.

School Officials To Discuss County J. C. On February 3

At a dinner meeting at Cademartori's February 3, officials and board members from Salinas and the Monterey Peninsula will sound out one another on a proposal for a county-wide junior college district.

Dr. Fred Huber, president of Monterey Peninsula Junior College, superintendents and trustees of the Carmel and Pacific Grove school districts, and of the Monterey High School District, to which MPC belongs, will be in attendance.

Proposal from this side of the county is for unification for tax revenue and administration purposes, but continued operation of both colleges.

Chief Reminds Kids It's Time To Get Bicycle Licenses

Police Chief Clyde Klaumann is reminding Carmel children to come to the police station before the end of this month to license their bicycles. Adults with bicycles need licenses, too.

Licensing fee is twenty-five cents. A tag is attached to the bicycle after the license is purchased. At the police station a complete description of the bicycle is recorded. These records enable police officers to recover any bicy-
